

We are strengthening our team and offer a vacant position as

IT-PROJECTMANAGER (M/W) full time

ABF is an internationally successful company that has been implementing innovative solutions for the digitization of industrial companies for over 30 years. Varied fields of activity combined with a flat hierarchy and informal culture provide a pleasant working atmosphere.

Thanks to regular training and further education you will always stay up-to-date and become a true specialist in your work area! Good and honest cooperation is most important to us – this is how every employee contributes to long-term success.

Your qualifications

- ▶ Completed technical college and / or corresponding studies
- ▶ Preferably experience in software development (Java and/or C#)
- ▶ Knowledge in relational databases
- ▶ Creativity & pleasure in project implementation in the IT- and automation environment

Your varied fields of activity

- ▶ Project management, team leadership, scheduling, resource planning
- ▶ Analysis of the customer's requirements, concept development and sales
- ▶ Project specific purchasing
- ▶ Specification, design, and commissioning management for complex software systems for the control and optimization of production and logistics processes
- ▶ Customer training and support

We offer you

- ▶ Exciting and varied work in a successful company with excellent international references
- ▶ Pleasant working atmosphere in the company's own office building
- ▶ Feel-good atmosphere and various team events
- ▶ Free parking spaces directly at the company building
- ▶ Targeted personal development
- ▶ Flexible working hours
- ▶ A number of further benefits (www.abf.at/benefits)

We welcome applications with curriculum vitae and letter of motivation, including professional experience.

Ronald Bösendorfer
karriere@abf.at www.abf.at/karriere

The minimum annual salary provided by the collective agreement for full time employment must be stated as the basis for negotiation and amounts to € 43.946,00 gross.

Your final salary will of course depend on your professional experience and qualifications and will be discussed in a personal interview.